Please be on the lookout for a missing 5 yr. old Yorkie from Florida. His name is Cookie and is a little guy who has MVD. His mom needs him home desperately and a reward is being offered. He is AVID microchipped.

This is her and Cookie's story:

On Sunday 11-15-09 my heart was ripped out of my chest when I discovered that my 5 yr old Yorkie named Cookie was missing. Last seen NW Fontana St, PSL 34986 I got Cookie when he was 12 wks old and discovered that he was a very sick dog by age 1. I syringe fed him for about 6 months, then taught him to lick food off my hand and finally by age 1 he was eating out of a bowl. He's had seizures and he was diagnosed with Liver Shunt. His liver can't process any proteins so his body gets filled with toxins. He weighs approx. 3-4 lbs. I am beyond devastated and desperately searching. I belong to a yorkie forum called Yorkietalk.com, there are thousands of Yorkie lovers there. When they found out what happened they began donating through Pay Pal to help with news paper ads, flyers, street signs. I even have a large car sign with a big picture of Cookie on it. I have gone door to door knocking with my husband. I can't eat, I can't sleep and I feel like I'm living a nightmare. I know if anyone saw him on the street that he would be picked up and they would want to keep him. PLEASE if anyone has seen him please take him to the nearest Vet clinic and drop him off, tell him you found him. He is microchipped and they will call me. I am offering a large reward for his return. NO questions asked. Time is ticking PLEASE
