

About Us

My mom and I started this business because of Regin, her toy poodle. Regin got hurt several years ago jumping off a bed and has had an issue controlling his "functions".

In order to save the carpet and furniture something had to be done. After searching the Internet there were no products for male or female dogs other than the belly band. Now Regin has dignity because of Poochie Pants, and my mom has her clean floors.

Poochie Pants has saved my sanity as well. My dog, Mason, loves to mark his territory. Now he can go to other people's homes without me fretting and him getting in trouble, all the while looking fashionable in his Poochie Pants.

Mason and Regin both passed away in 2005.
