Poochie Pants: In The Words of Our Clients

Meet Mackie

In February 2004, our beloved five-year-old Cocker Spaniel named Mackie had emergency surgery for a ruptured disk that damaged his spinal cord. We were told that he would possibly never walk again.

After nine weeks of physical therapy, Mackie was walking but did not have control of his bladder or his bowel movements. We have two small children and a new home the stress level was unbelievable. We were at the point of making the tough decision about Mackie due to his incontinence and our concern for the health of our children. Although Mackie continued to get stronger everyday and is now walking and running slowly, he still needed something to stop the incontinence. We tried several different types of diapers, but it wasn't until discovering Poochie Pants on the Internet that we finally found something that actually works! We liked the fact that the Poochie Pant diaper could be a custom fit. You were so willing and successful in working with us to create the best fit for our dog!

Thank you Chanin for saving his life and reducing the stress level in our home. Mackie is now back to his old self, playing with his ball and toys. I can now enjoy my time with him, just like the old days when we used to cuddle on the sofa together.

Once again, thank you,

The Blais Family: Jeffrey, Lisa, Andrew, Alex, and Mackie

Meet Buffy

My name is Buffy and I am wearing my Poochie Pants.

I recently developed heart and bladder problems and was causing my mommy stress, until I discovered Poochie Pants.

The Poochie Pants fit perfectly and I look really adorable in them.

Thanks Poochie Pants...Buffy

Meet Fletcher

Fletcher is ten years old and never learned that it's not okay to mark inside the house.

I've tried three or four other products which he sneaks away and returns a few minutes later without them on. This left him banished to one room of the house until we got Poochie Pants.

After a few unsuccessful escape attempts, he's happy to have them put on as he knows he can come out and spend time the rest of the family.

Thanks Poochie Pants

Dave H.

Meet Molly

Dear Chanin,

Thank you so much for Molly's little outfit (diaper !) She looks so sweet.

It is such a relief to everyone in the house as well as Molly. She seems to notice the shift in all of us. We were so frustrated with her little problem, but we loved her soooo very dearly. We put a little "poise" pad underneath, just in case, and now she has FREE reign of the house. She is busy exploring and learning all kinds of new little tricks like harrassing our old gray male tiger cat. She was surprised to learn that her efforts to "play" with kitty are not met with equal pleasure..... LOL

Thanks ever so much, The Rizza Family (and MOLLY!)

Meet Chachi

Hi there,

I ordered a pair of male Poochie Pants last year and I cannot tell you how HAPPY I am to have them!! I foster Jack

Russells for a rescue and I currently have a 5 month old male pup who has NO concept of housetraining....I think Poochie Pants have not only saved my sanity in this situation, but may have saved my marriage!! Lol Just wanted to let you know how thrilled I am with your product!!!

Meet Cooper

Got my Poochie Pants today in the mail! I love them! Cooper wears them with no complaints! I find even them just being ON him deters him from any marking behavior! I will also be using them for foster dogs who have these issues since they are so adjustable and will fit most Jack Russells!

Meet Oprah

Oprah loves her poochie pants. She feels so dressed up. She wears them both when she is in heat and when she just wants to dress up. All of her friends think she is all that when she is wearing them. Both human and k-9 friends alike. Being a pug, she is hard to fit. She is like her Mama in that she cannot wear most clothes off of the rack. So, to have the option of having the poochie pants custom made is wonderful.--Clara A.

As a former registered breeder, I have two champion bichons, neither of whom were allowed to be neutered for many years since they were show dogs and were bred. Needless to say, as an apartment-dweller I was constantly on the lookout for "diapers". I've found many that work somewhat, but the Poochie Pants are the first that my dog feels really comfortable in -- especially when used with a contoured pad insert. She doesn't mind wearing these at all!

Thanks to Poochie Pants, many dogs who weren't good pets because of their housebreaking problems now have a chance at a happy home life! - Judith S.

Meet Spike

I just wanted to take this time to say that "Poochie Pants" are a life saver!!! I had just got brand new carpet, had tried wraps and diapers with nothing helping my escape artist. I came across the Poochie Pants website, I called and ordered and behold, within a day I had the best investment that I have made for my Pooch, These are the best thing since slice bread!!! My little houdini is no longer a escape artist and no longer marks his territory(maybe in his pants lol). I can walk around and feel comfortable knowing I dont have to block doorways and entrances, my dog has free roam of the house . Thank You Chanin!!! I will be placing another order here soon, just for back up!!!! - Bunny C.

Meet Lucy

These pants have been a godsend for our little Jack Russell Terrier, Ace. He has been on medication that has made him very thirsty and poor guy, at 14 years, he couldn't always make it outside. Since we've had the Poochie Pants accidents are non existent! He wears it when we are out of the house or overnight. Just the perfect solution. I've tried other types of incontinence bands for male dogs and they simply are not secure enough. Poochie Pants have made life easier for all of us! Thank you Chanin for the great design and the very prompt filling of our order (even in the Christmas rush).

Meet Cajun

FANTASTIC SERVICE... FANTASTIC FIT! I had searched all over for a garment that would help control my 6 year old Min. Pin's tendency to mark his territory in the house after being frustrated by seeing a bicycle or other dogs pass our window. Due to Cajun's large barrel chest and tiny waist, buying "off the rack" products never worked... plus, most of them looked like silly baby diapers. Then I found Poochie Pants online and discovered they would custom fit an outfit for the little guy. The custom male pant arrived only a few days after placing the order. However, I quickly realized the garment was perfect around the chest, but too large in the rear. I contacted Chanin via a Skype video call and talked/showed her where the sizing issues were. She took notes and told me to send the item back and she would rework where needed (at no cost!). A week later, the altered Poochie Pant arrived in the mail and fit Cajun PERFECTLY! I continue to be amazed at how well the pant works and the incredibly high level of customer service I received. ~Paul from FL

Meet Crossie

Our dog, Crossie, a miniature schnauzer, loves the male poochie pants. He is so proud. You can almost tell that he is happy to have them on as protection. He has had two bladder stone operations and he is now almost 12 years old. Has a hard time holding his urine for more than three hours. We try to stay home, but sometimes we have to be out for a bit longer. Now, with the pants, he only wets a bit and it goes right into the maxi pad liner. He is happy, we are happy. This halter unit that you have designed is simply brilliant. Bravo to you! Diapers don't work for our small dogs. They wiggle out of them and are annoyed by the waist band. These are awesome and make the dog feel secure. They also breath and are not making Crossie warm. He just loves them and we can't thank you enough! I would recommend your product to anyone. Try this first and don't waste money on those other diapers and doggie pants. These work right out of the box! and washable too!!! In addition, you gave us the best customer support and took time to answer our questions. That is a lost art. Keep up the great work. Happy to support a business with a great product and fabulous customer service! ~The Pattersons
